

You can draw a line to divide the address side of the postcard, but it's more fun to write in something personal!

The streamers below were stitched with free motion quilting instead of done with applique.

